Rating Action: Moody's upgrades the ratings of notes from NOW Trust 2019-1

25 Mar 2021

Sydney, March 25, 2021 -- Moody's Investors Service has upgraded the ratings on five classes of notes issued by NOW Trust 2019-1.

"IMPORTANT NOTICE: MOODY'S RATINGS AND PUBLICATIONS ARE NOT INTENDED FOR USE BY RETAIL INVESTORS. SUCH USE WOULD BE RECKLESS AND INAPPROPRIATE. SEE FULL DISCLAIMERS BELOW."

The affected ratings are as follows:

Issuer: NOW Trust 2019-1

....Class B Notes, Upgraded to Aa1 (sf); previously on Oct 01, 2019 Definitive Rating Assigned Aa2 (sf)

....Class C Notes, Upgraded to A1 (sf); previously on Oct 01, 2019 Definitive Rating Assigned A2 (sf)

....Class D Notes, Upgraded to Baa1 (sf); previously on Oct 01, 2019 Definitive Rating Assigned Baa2 (sf)

....Class E Notes, Upgraded to Ba1 (sf); previously on Oct 01, 2019 Definitive Rating Assigned Ba2 (sf)

....Class F Notes, Upgraded to B1 (sf); previously on Oct 01, 2019 Definitive Rating Assigned B2 (sf)

RATINGS RATIONALE

The upgrades were mainly prompted by an increase in note subordination available to the affected notes. Sequential amortization of the notes from closing has led to the increase in note subordination. The transaction has been making pro-rata principal repayments among all the rated notes since June 2020. The unrated Class G Notes will not be repaid until all classes of notes senior to them have been fully repaid. As such, note subordination continues to build u gradually.

Following the March 2021 payment, note subordination available for the Class B, Class C, Class D, Class E and Class F Notes has increased to 28.6%, 20%, 16.4%, 7.1% and 4% from 20.2%, 13.8%, 11.2%, 4.3% and 2%, respectively as of closing.

In addition, the performance of the underlying portfolio has been broadly in line with Moody's expectations. As of February 2021, 2.4% of the outstanding pool was 30-plus day delinquent, 0.5% was 90-plus day delinquent, and 2.1% was under COVID-19-related hardship assistance. The deal has incurred AUD6,938,590 of loss to date, which have been covered by excess spread.

Based on the observed performance to date, loan attributes, COVID-19-related hardship assistance and considering the gradual and uneven recovery, Moody's has updated its expected default assumption to 8.4% of the current outstanding balance (equivalent to 7.7% of original balance) compared to 8% of the original balance at closing.

The coronavirus pandemic has had a significant impact on economic activity. Although global economies have shown a remarkable degree of resilience to date and are returning to growth, the uneven effects on individual businesses, sectors and regions will continue throughout 2021 and will endure as a challenge to the world's economies well beyond the end of the year. While persistent virus fears remain the main risk for a recovery in demand, the economy will recover faster if vaccines and further fiscal and monetary policy responses bring forward a normalization of activity. As a result, there is a heightened degree of uncertainty around our forecasts. Our analysis has considered the effect on the performance of personal loans from a gradual and unbalanced recovery in Australian economic activity.

We regard the coronavirus outbreak as a social risk under our ESG framework, given the substantial implications for public health and safety.

The transaction is a cash securitisation of a portfolio of Australian unsecured and secured personal loans originated by NOW Finance Group Pty Ltd.

The principal methodology used in this rating was "Moody's Approach to Rating Consumer Loan-Backed ABS" published in July 2020 and available at https://www.moodys.com/researchdocumentcontentpage.aspx?docid=PBS_1230138. Alternatively, please see the Rating Methodologies page on www.moodys.com for a copy of this methodology.

Factors that would lead to an upgrade or downgrade of the ratings:

Factors that could lead to an upgrade of the ratings include (1) performance of the underlying collateral that is better than Moody's expectations, and (2) an increase in credit enhancement available for the notes.

Factors that could lead to a downgrade of the ratings include (1) performance of the underlying collateral that is worse than Moody's expectations, (2) a decrease in the notes' available credit enhancement, and (3) a deterioration in the credit quality of the transaction counterparties.

REGULATORY DISCLOSURES

For further specification of Moody's key rating assumptions and sensitivity analysis, see the sections Methodology Assumptions and Sensitivity to Assumptions in the disclosure form. Moody's Rating Symbols and Definitions can be found at: https://www.moodys.com/researchdocumentcontentpage.aspx?docid=PBC_79004.

The analysis includes an assessment of collateral characteristics and performance to determine the expected collateral loss or a range of expected collateral losses or cash flows to the rated instruments. As a second step, Moody's estimates expected collateral losses or cash flows using a quantitative tool that takes into account credit enhancement, loss allocation and other structural features, to derive the expected loss for each rated instrument.

Moody's quantitative analysis entails an evaluation of scenarios that stress factors contributing to sensitivity of ratings and take into account the likelihood of severe collateral losses or impaired cash flows. Moody's weights the impact on the rated instruments based on its assumptions of the likelihood of the events in such scenarios occurring.
